

PRIVACY STATEMENT

This Privacy Policy applies to the collection, use, disclosure and handling of personal information by the Sime Darby Motors Group (see below) (collectively "SDMG", "we" or "us"), including personal information collected via our website at www.simedarbymotors.com.au/ and other websites used by SDMG (the "Websites") and certain types of credit-related personal information (credit information).

SDMG is committed to protecting the privacy of individuals and is bound by the Australian Privacy Principles set out in the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) ("Privacy Act"), the credit reporting provisions of the Privacy Act and the Credit Reporting Privacy Code. This Privacy Policy outlines how we will collect, use, disclose and otherwise handle personal information, including credit information.

About us

When we refer to "SDMG" in this Privacy Policy, we are referring to Sime Darby Motors Group (Australia) Pty Ltd ABN 65 134 394 442 and its related entities within Australia. We also have related bodies corporate located overseas and with which we share personal information.

This Privacy Policy applies to SDMG and its privacy practices in Australia.

Collection of personal information

SDMG collects personal information from you in a number of different ways. We may collect personal information directly from you or in the course of our dealings with you, such as when you call us, fill out a form, provide personal information to us, order our products or services, visit one of our locations, use our Websites or apply for a job with us. If we have extended a credit facility to you, we will also collect information internally about your payment performance.

We may also collect personal information about you from publicly available sources, or in some cases, from third parties business partners, credit reporting agencies, recruitment agencies, online plant and equipment hirers, auction houses and market research and communications companies.

The types of personal information that we collect and hold about you will depend on your interaction with us. Generally, we will collect and hold your name, contact details and information relating to your dealings with us. But we may also collect additional personal information from you if you:

1. use our Websites – we will also collect your Internet Protocol (IP) address or Unique Device Identifier and other details about your usage of our Website;
2. apply to work with us – please see section 5 below (Job applicants);
3. are a SDMG customer – we will collect and hold your name, driver’s licence, company, phone number, email and postal addresses; or
4. apply for credit (or if a company of which you are a director applies for credit, or if you propose to guarantee credit applied for by another person) – we will collect and hold your name, company, postal and email addresses, mobile phone number, date of birth, bank account details and driver’s licence (or passport) number. We will also collect information contained in credit reports obtained from credit reporting bodies, which includes information about your credit history with other credit providers. We will also collect and hold scores, ratings, summaries, evaluations and other information about your credit worthiness which is derived by us or by credit reporting bodies wholly or partly from any of such information.

The purposes for which we collect your personal information may include:

1. verifying your identity;
2. contacting you (including via electronic messaging such as SMS and email, by mail, by phone or in any other lawful manner);
3. providing you with our products or services;
4. assessing and processing your credit application or your application to guarantee credit applied for by another person;
5. assessing and progressing (if appropriate) your job application;

6. developing and improving our goods and services and obtaining feedback;
and
7. for advertising, marketing and lead generation.

If we are not able to collect personal information about you, we may not be able to provide you with products, services and assistance to the extent that they require us to collect, use or disclose personal information.

Use and disclosure of personal information

We may hold, use and disclose your personal information so that we can:

1. respond to your enquiry and provide you with any products and services you may have requested;
2. contact you (including via electronic messaging such as SMS and email, by mail, by phone or in any other lawful manner) in relation to your enquiry;
3. respond to your feedback or complaint and deal with warranty claims;
4. assess and process your credit or guarantee application, administer your credit account;
5. assist and submit your finance or insurance applications;
6. administer, investigate, report and resolve any insurance or other claims, complaints or incidents;
7. assess and process your employment application, including conducting reference checks;
8. carry out our business functions and activities, including meeting our legal and regulatory obligations; and
9. improve the service we provide and also to let you know about promotions, discounts, upcoming events or products or services that may be of interest to you.

Some credit information may only be used or disclosed under the Privacy Act for some of the above purposes or in some circumstances.

We may hold and use your personal information for the purposes for which it was collected. We will also hold and use your personal information for a secondary purpose that is related to a purpose for which we collected it, where you would reasonably expect us to use or disclose your personal information for that secondary purpose.

We may also share your personal information within the SDMG group (see "About us") and with third parties, including:

1. vehicle manufacturers or distributors for warranty marketing and promotional purposes;
2. third party service providers we use in conducting our business (including archival, auditing, debt collection, banking, insurance, marketing, advertising, mail house, delivery, recruitment, customer contact, technology, data processing, research, investigation, utility, professional advisory (legal, accounting, financial and business consulting) and security services);
3. if you apply to work with us (see section 5 below (Job applicants)); and
4. if you apply for credit (or a company of which you are a director applies for credit, or you propose to guarantee credit applied for by another person), we will collect from your personal information and disclose your personal information (and other information you provide in connection with your credit application) to other credit providers, trade referees and credit rating service providers.

Some of the third parties to whom we disclose your personal information may be located outside Australia. See below at "Overseas disclosures".

Job applicants

If you apply to work with us, we collect the details that you include in your application and during any interview process with us, as well as from your referees, our recruitment agencies and from public sources. We may also ask you to provide us with additional personal information (including as part of a criminal history check and drug and alcohol testing, as required by our pre-employment screening policy), subject to our legal obligations.

We may disclose your personal information to and/or collect your personal information from our related bodies corporate and our service providers who help us with the recruitment process. This includes recruitment agencies and service providers who perform pre-employment screening and testing services for us.

We will not use this information for any purposes other than assessing and progressing (if applicable) your employment application.

Credit applications and credit reporting bodies

If you, or company of which you are director, apply to us for credit, we may obtain a credit report about you from a credit reporting body. We may also obtain a credit report about you (when the Privacy Act permits us to do so) if you have guaranteed, or have offered to guarantee, an application for a credit facility for a company or someone else.

When we request a credit report from a credit reporting body, we will provide information to the credit reporting body that identifies you, and we may give them information about the type and amount of credit applied for or provided to you (or your company).

Information about our marketing practices.

We may contact you via email, post or other means in order to provide you with updated information about the products or services you have ordered from us and to provide you with other information about our products and services and those of our suppliers. If you do not wish to receive marketing emails from us, you can unsubscribe using the link contained in our emails, otherwise you can contact us using the details set out below.
